

I am deeply opposed to any further lifting of media ownership regulations. I think it is critically dangerous to the health of our nation and its democracy. If it was up to me, we would be restoring previously-lifted regulations; but as it is, I can only beg that we don't further lift them.

There is a lot at stake here. Please make the right decision.

Best regards,
Ryan Geiss

p.s. your website was slammed all day yesterday (friday); I was unable to ever get through. So please recognize that the number of comments you received yesterday was probably only a fraction of the number of people trying to file them.